DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/29/08 has been entered.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 9, and 13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ogi (USPN 4155478). Ogi teaches the claimed inventions as evidenced by the entire specification and fig 1. It should be noted that casing 1 constitutes a capsule, and the mold of Ogi constitutes the claimed sealing clamp that clamps and holds the capsule. It should also be noted that injection mold inherently have injection ports.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ogi (USPN 4155478). The above teachings of Ogi are incorporated hereinafter. In regard to claim 10, such is well-known in the molding art in order to provide a presentable final product. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to remove any flash on the outside of the capsule in order to provide a presentable final product. In regard to claims 11-12, such is well-known in the molding art to remove flash from a molding apparatus in order to prepare for another molding cycle. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to remove flash from the mold/clamp of Ogi in order to prepare the mold/clamp for another molding cycle.

6. Claims 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ogi (USPN 4155478). The above teachings of Ogi are incorporated hereinafter. In regard to 15, recycle means within molds are well-known in the molding art in order to reduce manufacturing costs. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include liquid recovery grooves in the apparatus of Ogi in order to achieve the above result. In regard to claim 16, molds having airing and suction ports are well-known in the molding art in order to efficiently fill a mold cavity. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include an airing and a suction port in apparatus of Ogi in order to achieve the above result. In regard to claim 17, the specific design of the mold groove/cavity is a mere obvious matter of choice dependent on the desired final product and of little patentable consequence to the claimed apparatus since it is not a manipulative feature or step of the claimed apparatus. Further, molds having injection grooves are well-known in the molding art. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to design the apparatus of Ogi to have the claimed groove in order to form an article having a protruding band.

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9-17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following USPNs teach the state of the art: 3073087 and 4415387.
